PROFILE

Having grown up with a background in performing arts, attending weekly musical theatre classes and acquiring the skills of acting, singing and dancing, I've grown into a creative and passionate student, currently pursuing a career in costume, who understands and can actively engage with the work that happens on and off stage during theatrical productions. With a growing interest in TV & Film, as well as the disciplines of dyeing and breaking down, I hope to expand my skills and knowledge through shadowing opportunities and work experience.
