

14th February 2023

Open Day for Composition

Welcome to the Guildhall School of Music and Drama.

Please note that open days are centred on teaching and performance activities already planned for the School day. This means that spaces to observe classes may be limited and, at times, those accompanying visitors may be unable to view the class.

----Morning Activities----

10.00–10.30	Silk Street Foyer Arrive, registration “Ask Me” students available to answer questions, café open
10.30–10.50	Silk Street Music Hall Welcome and General Q&A by Julian Philips (Head of Composition) Mike Roberts (Head of Electronic & Produced Music)
11.00–11.50	Milton Court Concert Hall Introduction to Undergraduate Composition – Hollie Harding (Associate Head of Composition UG)
11.10–11.50	Milton Court Tutorial Room (Level 4) Introduction to Postgraduate Composition – Paul Newland (Associate Head of Composition PG)
11.10–11.50	Milton Court Tutorial Room (Level -2) Introduction to MA in Opera Making – Julian Philips (Head of Composition)
12.00–12.30	Silk Street Music Hall Student Services Presentation from Student Affairs and Student Union President (Darcie Jago)

Continued overleaf

----Afternoon Alternative Activities----

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 12.30-13.30 | Student Finance Desk open in Silk Street Foyer |
| 13.00-13.30 | Silk Street Music Hall
Informal Q&A with the students |
| 13.00-14.50 | Milton Court Concert Hall (EPM)
An opportunity to join the Electronic & Produced Music
Open Day sessions:
13.00 Dave Buckley on his music for The Sandman (Netflix)
14.00 Mix Clinic |
| 13.30-14.30 | Silk Street Foyer
Tours of the School from current students |

-
- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 15.00-17.00 | Silk Street Music Hall
Composition Tutorial Group (open class) –
Matthew King (Composition Professor) |
|-------------|--|

The library is also open during the day and welcomes visitors to view the collection and library facilities. You should also find time to visit the Barbican Centre (including the Library).

The school's coffee bar is open during the day for drinks, sandwiches and snacks. There are restaurants in the Barbican Centre and the area surrounding Moorgate and the School.