

I am a third-year production arts student at Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London. I am based in London and in Stoke-On-Trent as well as the wider Midlands and Northwest area. I specialise in stage management and have 6 years of experience working in a variety of roles, predominantly in theatre within education; starting off at the Regent Theatres Tech Academy and school shows, then receiving my BTEC level 3 diploma in production arts and now working on shows at Guildhall and in the industry.
