I made a Athenian style helmet for Athena, this was made from EVA foam, and decorated with spray paint, piping and gold pleather.

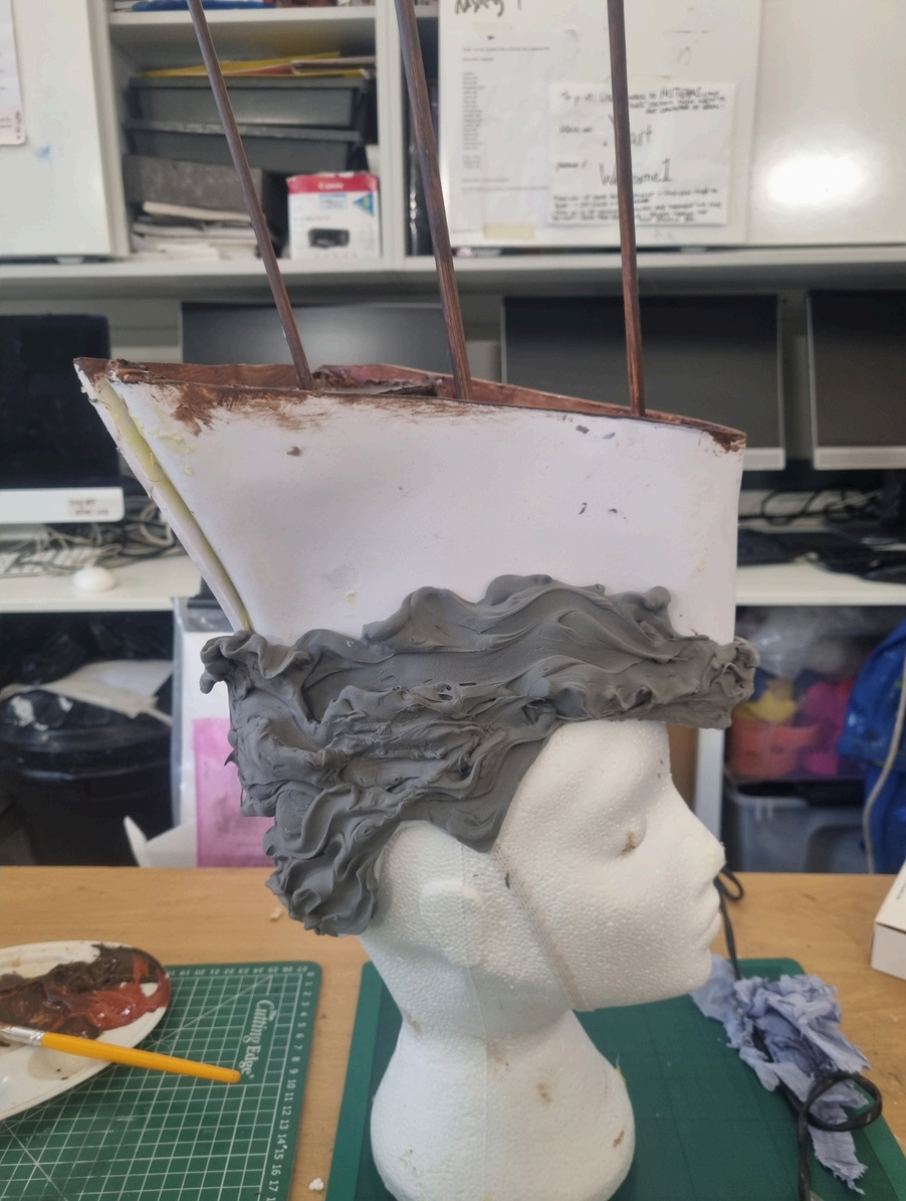

‘Jack the stripper’

Written and Directed by Karl Markey-Lee

June 2025

I was called in last minute to make a rat mask in a day for a performer in ‘Jack the Stripper’, due to the short time and minimal budget, I got a partially made test wolf helmet from the Guildhall School of Music and Drama’s props department, cut it apart so that I could re-use the snout shape, then sized my base to the performer’s head, before shapeable ears out of wire and fabric, then covering the whole mask with fur and painted details.
